

SAINT MARY SCHOOL

Inspired Learning
IN GRADES PRE-K2 TO 8

"I've been a Catholic school teacher since day one of my career. The capability to be creative in curriculum, accompanied by a rigorous Catholic foundation and leadership, allows each student to thrive. The strength of the Saint Mary community is like no other. Here, every student is a unique human being with so much to offer the world. Teachers cultivate Saint Mary students, not only academically, but as a whole—mind, body, and spirit."

— Rosa Ameno
Middle School Science and Lab
Master of Arts, New York University

At Saint Mary School, our curriculum is inspired by the rich intellectual tradition of the Catholic Church—the gold standard of education for centuries. An emphasis on the liberal arts and sciences enriches students through the study of classical literature, history, Latin, science, mathematics, and culture. This time-tested educational philosophy has created some of the finest minds our world has known. Here's how it will benefit your child:

- 1. Strong Voices. Starting in pre-K, Saint Mary teachers facilitate lively classroom discussions and lots of participation to help children find their voice.
- 2. Joy in Learning. When children are encouraged to participate in class, they become confident, engaged learners.
- 3. Critical Life Skills. An emphasis on analytical thinking and debate prepares Saint Mary students for the challenges of high school, college, and life.
- 4. Compassion for Others. Students discover that God is present in all people and things, inspiring them to help shape a more fair and just world.

- 1. Create through programs in the fine and performing arts.
- 2. Explore interests by joining the Math Team, Chess Club, Snapology Science Program, student government, and other clubs.
- 3. Compete in athletics including soccer, floor hockey, flag football, basketball, track, cheer, and e-Sports.
- 4. Grow spiritually through opportunities to know God and serve others.
- 5. Succeed after graduation at top area high schools and competitive colleges.

"A renewed emphasis on the classical approach to education distinguishes schools like Saint Mary from our secular counterparts. The emphasis shifts from simply achieving high test scores to cultivating joy in learning."

– Craig Palmer, Principal

Saint Mary School graduates go on to attend some of the area's most competitive high schools, as well as outstanding colleges and universities. As adults, our alumni are successful in their careers and lead faith-filled, fulfilling lives.
